

Methodist Women's Hospital Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) provides specialized medical attention to more premature and critically ill infants and their families than any other hospital in the region. This past year, fundraising began to support expansion for this important service area of the hospital.

Proceeds from this event will support the NICU expansion project and specifically fund the cost of the HeRo monitoring system for the new NICU beds. HeRo is a state-of-the-art tool designed to help detect signs of infection, illness or other distress in our smallest of patients before any symptoms appear.

Please help to further enhance the outstanding care given by our NICU team by supporting the cost of this lifesaving monitoring system and our NICU expansion.
